Smink Things

Smink Things is the studio of designer Marianne Smink. Born and raised in the Netherlands, Marianne brings a background in print design and an eye for the beauty of imperfection to her work.

The wallpaper collection draws on our handmade, screenprinted tiles. Each design is laid out in a striking composition, captured and digitally applied to high quality non-woven paper.

Smink Things also offers a bespoke commission and special design service. Please get in touch to talk through your project and requirements.

W01 - After Lowry

One of Smink Things most popular ranges. The After Lowry wallpaper takes its name from a painter known for his peopled city vistas. The industrial buildings of Lowry's work are softly echoed in the simple shapes and subtle hues of the tiles in this wallpaper.

W02 - Quarter Circle

There is something unexpected in the contrast of the bold sharp circle on its loosely painted background. Sometimes stark and loud, sometimes softly hidden in a background glaze. The Quarter Circle changes constantly through this paper in hues of muted blues and reds.

W04 - Going Overground

Going Overground was inspired by the largest tiling project ever undertaken in Britain, the London Underground, where every design was meant to signify a station. The rhythmic sway and warm colours of this collection brings the inspiration back overground. Cool greys, browns and ginger cluster in the triangular prints.

Vasarely-inspired 3D cubes are a staple of tile design and a small detail from those designs inspired Recubed. In cool greys and blues, Recubed creates something slightly asymmetrical and new.

Abstracted from the detail of dilapidated stone masonry and re-drawn, this paper breathes new life into the ancient craft. The subtle yet raw hues mimic the natural stone which inspired the work.
